following item from the Tribune re-calls the "Potiphar papers:"

"A grand party was given a few nights since by a wealthy citizen, at which the peculiar graces of the fashionable young men of New York shone with unusual splendor. In an upper room, where card tables had been set for old gentlemen, was a large bowl of punch, which the boys smelt out. They broke into the room, and got roaring drunk on the punch; then invaded the hat room and cut up all the men's hats, except their own, boring holes in some, slashing others, slicing off the brims and punching out the crowns, until the floor was covered with ruined castors; and finally wound with ruined castors; and finally wound up their gentlemanly behavior by cut-ting the cord of the dumb-waiter and letting the whole of the expensive supper cruckery go into the kitchen, smashing it into countless pieces."

DESCENT OF A BOLT OF FIRE.-The Boston Journal states that while the New York and Worcester train was passing Natick, a ball of lightning, as large as the two fists of a man, descended, ran along the telegraph wire, and exploded with a report as loud as a cannon. The wire was consumed, and the posts within the space of half a mile were shivered from top to bottom. The passengers on the train were greatly alarmed, as the ball of fire was all the time in sight, and the explosion seemed as if beneath the ears. Had the train been under the wire, it must
